Founded in 1988, NATWA (North America Taiwanese Women’s Association) is dedicated to the self-growth and empowerment of women through friendship, service, activism, and participation in public affairs. NATWA II, an initiative of NATWA, is a network of 1.5-and 2nd generation Taiwanese American/Canadian (TA/C) women in their 20s and 30s. NATWA II seeks to support women’s issues and professional development, preserve Taiwanese cultural heritage, and showcase talents among TA/C women throughout North America.
